Three Tables Set with Decorative Glass Au Quatrieme

Second floor, Old Building,

Three tables Au Quatrieme are rarely lovely. They hold arrangements of glass in most exotic beauty of form and color, old glass, modern glass and fragileblown ornaments from Italy

Rose et Verte

One table has for its center ornament a shallow bowl of pale ruby colored glass piled high with shining grapes of glass, colored emerald green and rose and frosty white. The other ornaments on the table play pleasantly with the same rose and green theme. There are old rose colored glass candlesticks with opaque white decorations and pendant prisms of crystal, apple green goblets, and pale ruby smaller glasses and finger bowls. Two great goblet shaped compotes are crystal and pale ruby cut glass.

Jaune et Noire

Four canary yellow candlesticks holding velvety black candles are on another table. The candlesticks are of old English glass and match the large canary colored covered compotes, the finger bowls and the two small bottles. In the centre of the table is a yellow glass bowl of black grapes.

Cogs de Porcelaine

A long refectory table is made lovely by Venetian glass of a beautiful amethyst color. There are four candlesticks in the centre, besides compotes, finger bowls and goblets of this glass. On each side of a large shallow amethyst glass bowl in the centre is a porcelain cock with sweeping tail-feathers and gay comb painted rose and amethyst. Fourth floor, Old Building.

BELMALSON-Interior Decorations

The Empire Bathroom

A very beautiful small bathroom in Belmaison has walls marbleized café au lait color and accented with pilasters of black marble and bandings of pale emerald green. The little bath-tub, which is really Directoire in design, is set in an alcove between two closets so that it is a structural part of the design of the room. Over the bath-tub is a plaque with the representation of Cupid and Psyche, characteristic of the ornament of the period.

Two very lovely scarlet lacquer stools carved with delicately modeled Empire sphynxs and gilded in fine lines are a brilliant note against the warm café au lait marble of the tub, and give the room much of its beauty.

An Empire wash-stand is of rosewood with small columns painted black and gold and has an oval opening for a wash basin. This is an unusual piece of furniture, fine in design and altogether charming. The dressing-table is a fragile feminine piece of furniture, and embodies some of the most delicate and lovely lines of the period in its dark lacquered surfaces.
